Program for the International Conference

“The Sociology of Migration: Current Developments and Future Trends”

June 23 and 24 2016, Senatssaal, Humboldt University of Berlin

“Migration and Ethnic Minorities” Section of the German Sociological Association (DGS) and the “Berlin Institute for Integration and Migration Research (BIM)” at Humboldt University of Berlin

The section "Migration and Ethnic Minorities" of the German Sociological Association (DGS) was founded 30 years ago and has developed from a marginalised field of study into one of the most dynamic research areas among German social sciences (Germany, Austria, and Switzerland). The conference "The Sociology of Migration: Current Developments and Future Trends" builds on this success story and seeks to assess the present state and the future advance of migration research. In times of increasing numbers of refugee arrivals in the EU as well as intra-European migration, fuelling heated political debates, the need for thorough sociological analysis is bigger than ever in order to prepare for current and future challenges.
